President’s Message

A huge congratulations to Dr. Mark Schlothauer and his very successful NDA Annual Session. Nebraska Strong came through with Dr. Mark Hyman and his presentation of “Dentistry’s Top 20 Game Changers” and Laurie Guest and her presentation “Best Kept Secrets of Successful Organizations.” Both presentations were well attended and received rave reviews! Also, thank you to David O’Doherty and Jody Cameron! Their tireless efforts and dedication to the Nebraska Dental Association and to our Annual Session are the engine that keeps driving our organization.

Next year we will be celebrating the 150th Anniversary of the Nebraska Dental Association back in LaVista on the 27th of April 2018 at the Embassy Suites Convention Center. Our presenters will be Dr. Lee Ann Brady, a fantastic restorative dentist from Glendale, Arizona. She has recently launched Restorative Nation, which is a website dedicated to the dental team, where you can discuss different ideas in a learning community that will have you engaged, empowered, and excited to be part of the dental profession. We will also have nutritionist David Meinz with his presentation of “32 Teeth & 100 Birthdays.” David’s topic is perfect for the entire team! He has presented to over 100 dental groups and received a standing ovation at the Thomas P. Hinman Dental Meeting. His entertaining and hilarious style will energize you and your health!

We will be celebrating 150 years of rich history of the Nebraska Dental Association and our role in supporting our great profession. Our profession has certainly changed over the years but I feel the core of the professional has not. There is a story of the Centennial Celebration of the American Dental Association to be held in New York City at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel’s Grand Ballroom in 1959 that almost was cancelled. The mayor of New York City was hosting Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev on an official state visit and needed to use the Grand Ballroom. The mayor and the Chief of Protocol for the U.S. State Department contacted the ADA stating, “Our security people have returned from a visit to the Waldorf and have advised us that they feel it absolutely imperative for security reasons that the official luncheon of the Mayor of New York be held in the Grand Ballroom of the Hotel.” ADA President, Dr. Percy Phillips returned a letter to both the mayor and State Department stating that the ADA, “respectfully declines your request and…will use all possible means to enforce its contract with the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.” The public support for the ADA and the “ballroom controversy” was at an all-time high and most Americans applauded the ADA for its uncompromising stance.

I feel we still stand for our ideals and beliefs and represent our profession and the public we serve. The ADA is urging Congress to repeal the McCarran Ferguson Act. This would prevent giving health insurance companies an unfair competitive advantage. Dentist and ADA member Rep. Paul Gosar said, “Imagine what could exist when we put the patient first and demand that health insurance companies compete for their business.” Dentists and students are lobbying to support student loan reform. With educational debt at its highest level ever, having the ability to refinance these student loans more than once helps our new colleagues with other loans to open a dental practice or other dental related careers such as teaching and research. As you are aware, the Nebraska Dental Association helped to pass LB18 into law. The expanded functions that will be available to both dental assistants and dental hygienists will not only help our dentists become more effective, but help the public receive the care they are seeking.

I have been asked why I became involved in organized dentistry and early on it was “the right thing to do.” But over the years I certainly have received more and more from organized dentistry than I have given. I have been surrounded by colleagues that are sharp, engaged, and care about dentistry. These are the kind of people I want to associate with, leaders with conviction. I urge you, if you have colleagues that are not members, invite them to a meeting and have them experience what is available to them. As a member, I invite you to become more involved! Leadership and engagement is contagious, you will not be disappointed!

Sincerely,

Brett Thomsen

The ADA recently changed its objective of achieving a seventy percent membership market share by the year 2020 to increasing our full dues paying members by one thousand per year for four years. In 2016 the ADA achieved the new goal by adding 1,276 members but how did we do in the 10th District; every state lost members compared to 2015. The new objective means we all need to work to bring in new members. High membership numbers make our organization more powerful when we speak on behalf of the public’s oral health. Dues paying members make our organization more powerful when we speak on behalf of the public’s oral health. Dues paying members make our national, state and local organizations strong financially and allow us to do more to help members succeed.

How do we bring in more members? The good place to start is with the new dentists but many of these ideas will work for anyone. Here are ten ways to recruit dentists to join the ADA.

1) Host a “New Dentist Night” at your dental society meeting. Ask current members to invite nonmembers to attend with them and provide opportunities for networking and casual conversation.

2) Host a free CE event for new dentists. Invite both members and nonmembers. Provide food and follow up with nonmembers with perhaps a special promotional incentive.

3) Make it personal, show up at their office with recruitment materials. A box of muffins or snacks add a personal touch that the whole office can enjoy.

4) Make events family friendly. Host an activity that kids can enjoy too or provide childcare during your events so couples can attend.

5) Hold a “Member-Get-A-Member” contest. Sponsor a prize so every member that recruits a new member is eligible to win something.

6) Spread the word on social media. Invite members and nonmembers to “like” or follow your society on social media. Take a picture when you attend dental events and post it on your social media pages. Share information about society events and explain the advantages of being an ADA member.

7) Hold a phone-a-thon. Have food, phone numbers and pertinent information available so your volunteers can invite nonmember dentists to attend your next event or to join or renew their membership.

8) Highlight your New Dentist Committee Activities in your newsletter and annual meeting materials.

9) Look to other groups or organizations. Nonmember dentists might be members of other dental related groups so you may be able to share information about membership at those events.

10) Last but not least, welcome all new members! Just as important as getting a new member is keeping a new member. Reach out to new members and connect them with other members and tell them about the ADA resources available to help them.

Why should someone become a member of organized dentistry? The ADA sponsored student loan consolidation plan can save someone thousands of dollars a year. The insurance products are so good that the local insurance agents have quit contacting me. There are Practice Management tools available to members that can help keep the office running smoothly and profitably. ADA and state endorsed products can save money in the office and at home. There are travel benefits available to members that can save them considerable money on hotels and car rentals. Advocacy on the state and national level makes a huge positive difference in how we practice dentistry. Continuing education is available on the local, state and national levels. If someone cannot miss work in order to get their CE it is available online through the ADA website. These are just a few of the reasons to join so let us all decide to put forth the effort and get someone to join our organization. If you feel like you need some help I am available to assist you. You can contact me and I will help you or I will call the dentist and help convince them to join.

We do not have to invent the wheel but we do need to jump on the wagon if we are going to increase our membership numbers. The American Dental Association has State Outreach Managers to assist us in increasing our membership. The contact person for all five states in the 10th District is Ms. Jeanine Pekkarinen and she can be contacted at pekkarinenj@ada.org.

When the membership metric was market share we were proud of the 10th District; not one state was below 70% and South Dakota had the highest market share in the country. We have a great deal to be proud of but we have a great deal of work to do to ensure dentistry stays a great profession. Many of us remember someone inviting us to join organized dentistry. Please be that person that invites a nonmember to be part of the greatest health organization in the world. Let’s restore that membership pride by asking someone to join us as members of organized dentistry.

In the last newsletter, I encouraged you to update your profile with a photo of yourself. In January, we had 193 members with photos. In April, we moved up to 248 members. During Annual Session, over 50 members took advantage of the free head shots. By summer, over 1/3 of our members should have photos on their profiles!

I found out from the ADA that the search programming favors photos in results. Therefore, if there are two members with offices near each other, the profile with a photo will appear first. The graphic on the right shows the new format.

ADA Lobby Day
On March 26-28, 2017, we joined hundreds of dental students to advocate for your patients, profession and their practice, beginning of a new era in advocacy for the ADA. In prior years, dental students would visit their representatives during a different month than ADA members. We had a great contingent from Nebraska that you can see below.

Non Covered Services Still Presenting

We still on occasion receive calls from offices wondering what they can do when an insurance company changes a code on a procedure, paying for the lower valued procedure.

As the example on the right shows from Principal, a D6066 implant crown was performed for the patient. Principal doesn’t cover a D6066, so they changed the reimbursement code to a D2792 and paid the claim based on a D2792.

The NDA passed our Non-Covered Services legislation five years ago now and the Board approved use of the Patient Acknowledgement Form, which prepares the patient for the experience above.

Crowns and composite fillings are the most common “substitution” scenarios. If your office takes a few minutes to review the likely outcome with their insurance billing and have them sign the Patient Acknowledgement Form before the EOB comes back from the insurance company, a lot of headaches can be avoided.

One question that I have not received an adequate answer to was “how can an insurance company change the code on the procedure that was actually performed?” If a dentist changed a code from a procedure performed to a higher priced code, bad things would happen.

Withholding Records

Is it legal to withhold patient records when a patient has a balance due? No. However, state law allows an office to charge a copying fee - 50 cents per page, $20 handling fee and cost of copying x-rays.
